Client-First™ Communication

5 Golden Communication
Rules

The problem:

 You're dropping the price waaay too early

- Makes it feel like you don't care about the outcome, only about getting paid
- People think they're special snowflakes, and whatever they spend their money on is tailored to them
- You genuinely don't know what price to quote before figuring out all the logistics

Price Last™ Checklist

Vision

- ☐ How many videos per month?
- ☐ What style are they going for?
- ☐ Any references they like?

Pain

- ☐ Are they working with an editor now?
- ☐ What's stopping them from hitting their goal?
- ☐ What's frustrating about their current process?

Bridge

- ☐ How do you specifically solve their pain?
- ☐ What makes you different from their current situation?
- ☐ Do they understand that you understand?

We gotta find out all nine before dropping the price.

Price Last™ Framework

All of this happens in under 10 messages btw

- 1 Connect Personally
- 2 Do the Research
- 3 Ask About Their Vision
- 4 Spot the Pain
- 5 Bridge the Gap
- 6 Drop the Price

Step 1: Connect Personally

- Get off X/IG/email ASAP
 - Ideally Whatsapp/Telegram
 - Or whatever they're using with their team internally

BUT!!!

You have to earn it.

- ☑ They need to know you can be useful for them to connect on a personal platform

Step 2: Do the Research

We're not trying to get ghosted or make their life harder.

✓ Current State → Desired State

We can find out everything about their Current State...

By looking at their YouTube channel.

Step 3: Ask About Their Vision

✓ Current State → Desired State

This is where we ask about their Desired State

- How many videos per month?
- What style do they want?
- Any creators they look up to for reference?
- They want to spend less time on revisions?
- They want to not have anxiety before opening the video the editor sent to them?

Step 4: Spot the Pain

If not clear, ask:

❓ Are you working with an editor right now?

You should know:

- What keeps them up at night?
- What's stopping them from hitting their goal?
- What's frustrating about their current process?

Step 5: Bridge the Gap

✓ Current State → Desired State

Let them know that you:

- Understand the frustration of the Current State
- Will do your best to move them closer to the Desired State

Give some proof if applicable, but don't sound salesy.

And most importantly...

Make sure that they understand that you understand

Step 6: Drop the Price

- Tie it to their Desired State
- Reiterate the logistics
- Don't justify

For me to be able to prioritize you and consistently deliver four 10-15-minute videos per month in this style, my rate is going to be $X .

Different price for different formats (special snowflake)
